School-Based Counseling: Services for Students in the School Environment

Strasburg-Franklin Local Schools has partnered with Community Mental Healthcare in providing school-based counseling services for our students and families. School-based counseling provides students and their families with a direct connection to licensed counselors and case managers in the schools.

Our clinicians work closely with teachers and support staff to coordinate individualized care plans aimed at helping students learn at their highest potential.

How we help.

Every individual receives a comprehensive assessment to ensure an accurate, individualized, and appropriate treatment plan. Among the more common behavioral health issues we help students and families with include:

- Grief & Loss
- School Problems
- Poor Attention Span
- Anxiety (including performance-related anxiety)
- Anger Management/Low Frustration Tolerance
- Depression
- Disruptive behavior
- Trauma
- Irritability
- Interpersonal Conflicts

Psychiatric Services

In cases where the student may require medications to assist in managing their behaviors or moods, psychiatrists are available at Community Mental Healthcare's Dover location near Union Hospital.

Who qualifies for school-based counseling?

Our therapists are able to see individuals covered by Medicaid and, in most cases, private insurances. Case Management services are available to individuals covered by Medicaid. A sliding-fee scale (self-pay) option also is available. Our staff will work with families to identify service eligibility.

How to learn more.

Contact your school's guidance counselor or contact CMH by calling 330.343.6631 to determine the appropriate next steps in helping your student.

Beyond behavioral health...
